

SHOULD TURKEY AND THE ARAB STATES CONTINUE TO DO NOTHING?

Posted on January 1, 2024 by Mendelssohn Moses

For once, Mendelssohn addresses a warning to Turkey and to the Arab states, having now, on all-too many occasions, attempted to shake sense into his self-professed "co-religionaries" in the Jabotinski state.

A Bright and Bountiful Future for All?

(NB: Iran is a case apart. As the main target of Anglo-American hatred, she has no option other than to protect her people and ancient culture against a fire-storm which would set off World War III).

Back to Turkey and the Arab states.

Sackcloth and Ashes—An Excellent Disguise?

In their lamentable majority, the latter's elites are rentiers and bazaris, dependent on Anglo-American largesse, gliding along in the belief that their foreign investments will sleep soundly, provided they play both sides against the middle. Discreetly, one safeguards all financial, commercial and of course arms deals with the Jabotinski state and its masters in England and the USA, while beating one's breast and tearing one's hair whenever the extinction of the Palestinians be raised in a public forum.

Blind Greed

Once exterminated the "Useless Eaters" of Gaza, What Next, sleek elites? Have you but thought of that?

Armed to the gills by the USA, the Jabotinski state's armies are about to occupy the entire "ex" Palestinian coast line and seize the Palestinian off-shore oil fields, yielding limitless access to fuel, before pounding into dust the indigenous peoples still clinging to East Jerusalem and the West Bank.

What was, in 1948, merely a nasty Anglo-American bridgehead, has grotesquely swollen to become a slime-mould platform, borderless and bristling with every advanced weapons system on the planet including nuclear missiles, all of which point straight towards the Arabo-Muslim world.

The Jabotinski state is about to hatch the serpent's egg: a gigantic military platform open to the sea, dripping with oil, and answerable solely to that state's "Aryan" masters.

If, for the sake of their well-fed elite's creature comforts, Turkey and the Arab states continue to tolerate that, I prefer not to think of the consequences.
